The most conspicuous examples of architectural embellishment are the City and County Hall (shown on page 6), the Buffalo Library and Art Building (page 18), and the new Music Hall (page 58). Some description of these fine structures will not be out of place here. Buffalo Library and Art Building. This fine structure may well be called the pride of Buffalo. The building forms an irregular triangle, the apex of which fronts on Washington street and the base on Ellicott street, the two long sides facing - main front on Broadway 300 feet, rear front on Clinton street 200 feet. The edifice is of Hulberton red sandsone, brick and terra cotta, with red slate roof, and is fire-proof throughout. Including the ground, the entire cost was about $350,795. Work was commenced in September of 1884, and the finishing touches will be added this spring. It was, however, formally opened February 7th, and is occupied by the Buffalo Library Association, the Buffalo Historical Society, the Buffalo Academy of Fine Arts, and the Buffalo Society of Natural Sciences. All of the main floor and a portion of the second are devoted to the library, the arrangements being of the most perfect kind, with a capacity for 170,000 volumes, the association now owning 57,000 volumes. The basement, on a level with Ellicott street by reason of the descending grade, is the home of the Society of Natural Sciences. That portion of the...
