Not illustrated. 1907 Excerpt: .a very high order, there are signs of labourious and painstaking research in the drawing, and the composition has not quite the ease and assurance of his maturer works. But so precocious was the artist that this already exemplifies the essential characteristics of Holbein s linear design and the perfection and subtile rhythmical harmony of his contours. There are, of course, several works at Basel which were executed by Holbein at a still earlier date. To the year before this, 1516, belong the portraits of the Burgomaster Jakob Meyer and wife. PAUL DOUGHERTY, whose painting entitled An Upland Road we reproduce in colours, is a young American with whose work our readers are familiar. Some remarks upon his manner in painting are contributed in this issue in our New York Studio Talk, which will be found on an earlier page, and our readers will recall the attention given his marine painting in Mrs. Ruge s article on The Tonal School, in the January issue. Mr. Dougherty was born in Brooklyn in 1877. His art training abroad included work in Paris, London and Florence. He is represented in the best current exhibitions. CURRENT ART EVENTS The Pennsylvania Society Of Miniature Painters held an interesting exhibition in Philadelphia during the past month. Over one hundred and fifty miniatures by some sixty exhibitors were shown. The New York Water Colour Club has held its seventeenth exhibition, closing the second of this month. Further reference will be made to this...
