Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .By 2020, 50 of all college students in the U.S. will be taking at least one online course and they will be joined with millions more across the globe. This book is indispensable for traditional, first-time online students as well as for adult returning students and professionals pursuing online degrees. How to Ace Your Online Course shows you everything instructors want you to know for you to get the best grades in your online course. It is perfect for students taking any type of online course, including those enrolled in high school, A.A., B.A., M.A., or Ph.D. degree programs. Written by two Ph.D. s with experience in online education at private non-profit, public non-profit, and for-profit universities, this book is much more than just a study guide. First, the authors take you behind the scenes in online education with a full and honest discussion of the economic conditions and educational theories that drive online education. Second, the authors help you with expert advice by describing how you should prepare for online education psychologically and by detailing the specific techniques you need to use to ensure the best grades. The book includes information revealed nowhere else, including the contractual duties of online instructors (why instructors are often required to help you), the grading techniques and tools instructors use, how to answer discussion questions in the formats that instructors look for, and how to work constructively in groups. Contrary to popular belief, most online instructors want to give students good grades, but many students sabotage their own education by failing to follow the best practices for online education. This book shows you how NOT to fail! Younger...
