By this act it was ordered that five trustees should be appointed by the Governor of the State, who should fix the location, erect the building, and employ teachers for the school. The trustees located the school in the town of Carbondale, on a lot of twenty acres, three-fourths of a mile south of the station of the Illinois Central Railroad. The cornerstone was laid on the 17th day of May, 1870, with impressive ceremonies, by the Masonic fraternity. The building was finished in time to be dedicated July 1, 1874;the first faculty commenced the work of instruction in the new building July 2, 1871, at which time a summer session of four weeks was opened, with fifty-three pupils attending. On the sixth day of September, 1874, the regular work of the Normal University commenced. On the afternoon of November 26, 1883, at 3 o clock this beautiful building was discovered to be on fire, and before 5 o clock p.m., despite the efforts of faculty, students, and citizens of Carbondale, the entire building was in ruins. By the heroic labors of students, teachers, and citizens, the library was saved, and most of the furniture: also the physical and chemical apparatus. All the material in the museum was lost. The citizens kindly offered the use of rooms in some of the business blocks, which the trustees accepted, and the school went on with regular recitation...
